

ST. LOUIS BUSINESS JOURNAL

Thursday, February 24, 2005

Midwest Litigation expands to Kansas City area

St. Louis Business Journal

Midwest Litigation Services of St. Louis opened a new office in Overland Park, Kan., to serve the Kansas City area, it said Thursday.

The firm, which provides court reporting and other legal support services, now has facilities in St. Louis, Jefferson City, Columbia, Rolla and Springfield, Mo., and Edwardsville, Ill.

Deborah Weaver, one of the owners, said setting up a presence in Kansas City rounds out state coverage for the company's clients.

All contents of this site © American City Business Journals Inc. All rights reserved.